The feasibility map was created with the Lafayette Community Garden in mind. We wanted to create a map that could help determine whether projects proposed for the farm could be complete or not. We used techniques from engineering to organize a system that will help organize the project proposals for the gardens and hopefully help projects begin a development stage.