

1:50-2:30 PM Lunch with Alumni

2:30-3:15 PM Block IV
Workshops

10. Risks and Rewards of Collaborative Leadership

Everyone in your group can be a leader! Is this what you want? We'll talk about how to inspire truly collaborative groups and their role at college and in the workplace. Tips and role-plays will complement caveats and constraints. Trisha Thorme, Community Outreach Coordinator, Mary Beckman, Associate Professor of Economics & Business, Huldah Adams '00

11. Generation X: Lafayette Stereotype or Reality?

Do Lafayette students represent typical "Gen Xers?" This workshop will incorporate action team discussions with overall group debate to explore this question, and also look for solutions to the apathy that is a part of the Generation X image. Karen Briggs '00, Bryan Berry '00, Erin Rogers '00

12. Stress Management/How to Say No

Getting a chance to be a leader is a very exciting experience for Lafayette students, but can also produce a great deal of unnecessary stress. This fun and interactive session will ask you to examine whether or not your involvement choices are appropriate your personal goals, and will help you deal with the stress that accompanies those leadership choices. Carmen Marsit '00

3:15- 4:00 PM Leader
Recognition
Reception

The 2000 Lafayette Leadership Institute Conference is a program of the Office of Student Activities made possible by the Class of '68 Leadership Fund.

For more information, contact the Office of Student Activities (610) 330-5337.

Lafayette Leadership Institute Committee:

Huldah Adams '00
Robert Bedford

Asst. Dean; Director of Intercultural Development

Tiffany Blakey '00
Autumn Bragg

Associate Director of Alumni Affairs

Pam Brewer

Asst. Dean; Director of Student Activities

Alan Childs

Associate Professor of Psychology

Carrie Damico '00
Student Intern '99-'00

Karen DiBisceglie '00
Tracy Garnick

Asst. Dean; Advisor to Fraternities and Sororities

Allyssa Grimbilas '01
Student Intern '00-'01

Nicholas Groch '01
Leah Parker-Moldover

Resident Life Area Coordinator

Grace Reynolds

Assistant Director of Student Residence

Marvin Roth

Director of Career Services

Trisha Thorme

Community Outreach Coordinator

Katie Wyckoff '01

Lafayette Leadership Institute

The World Is Next... Take the Lead

February 5, 2000

The World Is Next...

Take the Lead

Conference Schedule

9:45-10:30 AM Breakfast &
Registration
Farinon 2nd Floor
Balcony

10:30-11:10 AM Keynote Address

Becoming a Leader in the Global Village

Laneta Dorflinger, Ph.D. '75, Lafayette Trustee, is the Vice President of Clinical Research at Family Health International, an organization that works to improve reproductive and family health globally through research, innovative health service, family interventions, and training and information programs. Dr. Dorflinger will discuss her experiences and provide insights into the qualities of effective leaders, and the challenges for those seeking to become future leaders in a rapidly changing and often volatile world.

11:10-11:20 AM Break

11:20 AM-12:05 PM Block I
Workshops

1. Keynote Follow-Up

An opportunity to dialogue with Dr. Dorflinger.

2. Money Matters

For those preparing to be financially independent in the months ahead, this session will provide important tips on such topics as taxes, employment benefits, money management, rent and realtor fees, financing graduate school and purchasing real estate. Susan Averett, Associate Professor of

Economics and Business, Sheila Handy, Visiting Assistant Professor of Economics & Business

3. Marketing Your Leadership Skills

This session will cover the elements of effective communication of one's strengths and experiences. Topics to be discussed will be resume and cover letter writing, interviewing skills (including dress), use of networking and telephone and e-mail tactics. Marv J. Roth, Director of Career Services, Susan C. Heard, Associate Director of Career Services

4. A Moral Compass: The Prerequisite for Leadership

To lead requires making moral and ethical choices as well as exercising moral and ethical forces. This workshop will examine these issues as they affect leadership and allow you to explore your own moral and ethical positions on several leadership issues. Alan Childs, Associate Professor of Psychology

12:05- 12:10 PM Break

12:10-1:10 PM Block II
Workshops

5. Strategies For Productive Meetings

Are meetings a wise use of your time? Do you have a sense of accomplishment at the end of a meeting? If you answered no, come and learn about the things you can do to make the most of your time. Learn how to plan and organize meetings so that you can efficiently accomplish your goals. Rosie Bukics, Professor of Economics & Business

6. The Art of Effective Communication and Public Speaking

Whether seeking to explain an idea or motivate a group action, a leader must communicate effectively. Good public speakers sell both themselves and their ideas. This session will deal with the five key steps to effective public speaking. Gary Evans '57, Vice President for Development & College Relations

7. Developing the Leaders Around You: The Power of Followership

"Do those served grow as persons; do they, while being served, become healthier, wiser, freer, more autonomous, more likely themselves to become servants?" – Robert K. Greenleaf. This workshop is designed to help leaders plant good seeds for others to grow, while also helping group members to learn about the underestimated power of followership. Robert E. Bedford, Assistant Dean of Students, Director of Intercultural Development

8. The Impact of "Diversity," "Quality" and "Change"

This session will address the importance of leaders possessing the skills of "diversity", "quality" and "change" and successfully and skillfully integrating them into their personal and professional lives – NOW! THE WORLD IS NOW... TAKE THE LEAD. Phillip Jackson Jr., Manager of Placement Services, Training and Development, Metropolitan Career Center, Inc.

1:10-1:20 PM Refreshment
Break

1:20-1:50 PM Block III
Alumni Panel

9. Alumni Panel Discussion

Our panel of distinguished alumni will discuss the transition from college student leader to inspired and successful professional. Moderator: Malika Browne '94, Lafayette Assistant Director of Admissions, Mary M. Devane '88, Teacher, Hunter College High School, former Peace Corps member, Gary A. Evans '57, Lafayette VP for Development & College Relations, Victoria L. Meyers '74, Architect/Partner, Hanrahan & Meyers, Leroy Nunery '77, former Lafayette Trustee, VP for Business Services, U. of Pennsylvania, Bruce A. Vakiener '62, President of Vakiener Associates