

Block III Workshops 2:10 – 3:00 PM

Alumni Roundtable Discussions

You will have an opportunity to meet with our distinguished alumni face-to-face for small group discussions. This is your chance to ask them questions and speak with them on a more personal level, and you may spend your time with one alumna or alumnus or move from table to table. Sample questions will be provided and LLE student committee members will help facilitate at each round table.

Stand Up and Be Recognized: Compile a Successful Scholarship Application

Applying for scholarships and fellowships can be more complicated and time consuming than you may imagine. Join us as we outline the critical preparation and personal attributes necessary for a successful application and rewarding experience.

Julia A. Goldberg, Assistant Dean/Postgraduate Studies and Fellowship Advisor

June A. Thompson, Postgraduate Studies and Fellowship Assistant

Ryan Beattie '05

Stand Out Programming Skills

Leading a group to successful programming can be a major challenge for emerging leaders. This session will take you through the basics of planning meetings and events on campus. Topics will include reserving rooms, catering, funding sources, publicity and more!

Amy Ahart '97, Assistant Director, Student Life Programs and Assistant to the Dean of Students

Kate Robbins '05, LAF Executive Chair and LAF members

Step Up, Stand Out: Discover the Leader in You!

Tenth Anniversary
Lafayette Leadership Institute
February 5, 2005

Registration & Breakfast

9:30 – 10:00 AM
Marquis Hall Lobby & Bergethon Room

Keynote Address 10:00 - 10:40 AM

Step Up: Answer the Leadership Call

Keynote speaker Riley Temple '71, Esquire, Partner Halprin Temple, Trustee and Chair of the Presidential Search Committee, will inspire you to leadership and offer guidance on when it is important to say "yes" or appropriate to say "no" to leadership opportunities.

Block I Workshops 10:50 - 11:40 AM

Keynote Follow-Up Discussion

We invite you to join a small group discussion with Riley Temple as a follow-up to his keynote address.

The Team Leader in You

LLI's first Student Leadership Intern, James Kohl '97, returns to share some strategies for team leader success! Citizens and leaders of any community, organization, team, staff, neighborhood, town, state or nation, must work together toward common goals. In this workshop you will discuss your role as a citizen in society and how your rights and responsibilities in that setting relate to your role as a member or leader of a team or organization at Lafayette.

James L. Kohl '97, Director, Residential Life and Education
The George Washington University

Be An Academic Stand Out

Learn how to study smarter. Students put forth a significant amount of effort to succeed, but sometimes do not know how to maximize the return on their efforts. This workshop will go beyond the basics and introduce key strategies and concepts to push you to the next level and keep you there.

Tim Silvestri, Psychologist and Adjunct Professor

Discover Your True Colors

The "True Colors" concept recognizes that the need for and definition of success differs for each of us. Your unique characteristics and values are identified as your "true colors." Jadrien Ellison will present this model of leadership styles and explain how it appreciates the differences of individuals, encourages potential, and motivates success.

Jadrien Ellison '02, Coordinator, Intercultural Development

Block II Workshops 11:50 - 12:40 AM

Serve and Stand Out

Do you want to make a difference? This workshop will describe the varying degrees of involvement in volunteerism from spectator to generative service experiences. Student leaders from the Landis Community Outreach Center will help you identify the best avenues and organizations for your talents and skills, so that you can make a difference.

Char Gray, Director, Landis Outreach Center and Student Staff

Step Up and Change the World through Research and Problem Solving

Research and problem solving make a difference to the world in which we live. This workshop will show you how to become engaged in EXCEL research or in the Technology Clinic Program and what these opportunities entail. Students currently engaged as EXCEL scholars and in the Tech Clinic will provide highlights from their experiences.

David Veshosky, Professor of Civil and Environmental Engineering
Dan Bauer, Professor of Anthropology and Director, Tech Clinic
Emily Groves '05
Josie Dykstra '05

Leadership for Life

This interactive workshop, based on the work of Steven Covey and his book Seven Habits of Highly Effective People, will help you: 1) Identify and plan to balance the many "hats" you will wear as a student leader, 2) Prioritize your commitments and "put first things first", 3) Plan by "beginning with the end in mind", 4) Make your roles on campus matter and 5) Manage your time effectively. You will discover the tools you will need to be successful in all areas of campus life and beyond.

Debrah Cummins, Assistant Director, Lafayette College Fund and Consultant, Insights Consulting & Coaching

Explore the Future through Voices of the Past: Utilize the Lafayette Alumni Network

Lafayette students have access to an amazing and unique career resource...Lafayette alumni! Graduates from varied majors, class years, and career areas are willing to help students explore careers by means as simple as sharing information over the phone or as significant as providing externships or summer internships. Come hear experienced students tell how they have benefited from the Lafayette network and learn how simple it is to do so yourself!

Rachel Moeller '88, Assistant Director, Career Services and extern/intern student panelists and mentor(s)

Lunch & Alumni Panel Presentation

12:40 – 2:00 PM

Bergethon Room, Marquis Hall

After our buffet lunch, our panel of distinguished alumni will discuss the transition from Lafayette student leader to successful graduate student or professional.

Moderator: Ed Ahart '69, Managing Partner of Schenck Price Smith & King/Lafayette Trustee. Panel: Christine Bender '04, dental student, U. of Pennsylvania; Karen Cera '95, Creative Director, Time Warner Audio Books; Rawle Howard '96, Vice President and Counsel, Lehman Brothers; James Kohl '97, Director of Residential Life and Education, George Washington U.; Chris Meredith '02, Media Planner, ABC Family Television; Natasha Strother '96, Executive Vice President, Strother Enterprises Inc.
