

MELLON DIGITAL HUMANITIES STEERING COMMITTEE FACULTY GRANTS CALL FOR PROPOSALS

In conjunction with Skillman Library's Digital Scholarship Services department, the Digital Humanities Steering Committee invites proposals from Lafayette faculty for developing digital humanities initiatives in the classroom or in furthering scholarly engagement with DH.

DH Professional and Research Development

Applications due: Open call

Explore the Digital Humanities in your own scholarship. Possible uses of funds include:

- DH conferences
- Training in a specific DH tool or method
- Workshops or intensive courses
View upcoming courses and workshops
- Travel to archives/libraries or DH centers
- Collaboration with colleagues at other institutions

Funding is also available for EXCEL Scholars dedicated to DH projects (including for those receiving EXCEL grants from other sources).

DH Collaboration Across the Curriculum

Applications due: Nov. 20

Collaborate across disciplines. Develop a data driven project with a colleague.

- Develop a project that requires the skills taught in both of your classes.
- Use data collected or created in one class as an object of study in another
- Use a client based approach to solve a problem
- Ask humanities questions of STEM data

Grants of $2000 per instructor will be awarded for syllabus development and research time.

DH in the Classroom

Applications due: Nov. 20

Supplement your syllabus with a DH assignment or project.

Funding will provide:

- Support for the development of a digital research assignment or class project that supports the key learning outcomes for a humanities class.
- Consultation from the Library's DSS in planning, building, and executing your digital endeavor.

Grants of $2000 will be awarded to applicants seeking to use digital humanities tools and methodologies in a course to extend existing modes of interpretation and analysis, and to generate new research questions. To learn more about the successful projects from last semester's cfp visit
